

This aids communication?

written by Sam

June 26, 2019

Okay, so it is apparent that I don't speak English. You are not fluent in Doglish.

So If I am not fluent in English, why do you think I will understand it better if you address me using baby talk?

I understand "din-din" better than "dinner"? I am told to go get my "Bobo" rather than my "toy"? You suggest that I need to go "potty poo-poo" rather than "take a dump"?

Me and my quadruped friends were just wondering....

hrrbanana.com